Prayer to Our Mother of Perpetual Help

O Mother of Perpetual Help, we come before your holy Icon seeking to follow Your Son. Mary, please gently guide us to enter more deeply into the mystery of Redemption. Help us as we contemplate the Incarnation, Passion, Death & Resurrection of Your Son, Jesus, Our Redeemer. Help us to receive and accept the Light of Christ present in your arms. Mary, we present our needs to you and ask that you place them in the hands of your Son.

Most Holy Mother of God, Our Mother of Perpetual Help, save us. Amen.

Be God's instruments of healing, like Apostles

Pope Francis resumed his weekly General Audiences by continuing his catechesis on the Acts of the Apostles, urging the faithful trust in the Lord, and act in His name. Pope Francis focused this week on the first account of healing in the Book of Acts (Acts 3:3-6): Peter and John's healing of the Paralytic. "In the Acts of the Apostles", began Pope Francis, "the preaching of the Gospel does not only rely on words, but on concrete actions that bear witness to the truth of the proclamation". These, said the Pope, are wonders and signs, which "confirm" the work of the Apostles, "showing that they act in the name of Christ."

Neither silver nor gold: Pope Francis explained that the beggar, in meeting the apostles, "does not find money, but the name that saves: Jesus Christ the Nazarene".

Peter as Church: Peter then orders the paralytic to stand and, in taking his right hand, helps him up. Through this, said Pope Francis, Peter personifies the Church, who "sees those who are in difficulty, does not close her eyes, and knows how to look humanity in the face in order to create meaningful relationships, bridges of friendship and solidarity instead of barriers."

Acting in the name of Jesus: Pope Francis then continued his comparison, explaining that the apostles look at the beggar and say "look at us". They reach out to him, they lift him up and they heal him. This, said the Pope, is what Jesus does with all of us. Through bad times, in moments of sin, in moments of sadness, "Jesus says to us 'Look at me: I am here!'" Therefore, said the Pope, "Let us take the hand of Jesus and allow ourselves to be lifted up".

Finally, the Pope explained that Peter and John teach us not to trust in the means used to heal, which he said, "are also useful". Rather, trust in "the true wealth that is the relationship with the Risen One." "Let us not forget", concluded the Pope, "that it is Jesus' hand that through our own helps others to rise".

THE FEAST OF THE DORMITION - AUGUST 15

The Feast of the Dormition of Our Most Holy Lady, the Theotokos and Ever-Virgin Mary is celebrated on August 15 each year. The Feast commemorates the repose (dormition) or "falling-asleep" of the Mother of Jesus Christ, our Lord. The Feast also commemorates the translation or assumption into heaven of the body of the Theotokos. The Holy Scriptures tell us that when our Lord was dying on the Cross, He saw His mother and His disciple John and said to the Virgin Mary, "Woman, behold your son!" and to John, "Behold your mother!" (John 19:25-27). From that hour, the Apostle took care of the Theotokos in his own home. Along with the biblical reference in Acts 1:14 that confirms that the Virgin Mary was with the Holy Apostles on the day of Pentecost, the tradition of the Church holds that she remained in the home of the Apostle John in Jerusalem, continuing a ministry in word and deed. At the time of her death, the disciples of our Lord who were preaching throughout the world returned to Jerusalem to see the Theotokos. Except for the Apostle Thomas, all of them including the Apostle Paul were gathered together at her bedside. At the moment of her death, Jesus Christ himself descended and carried her soul into heaven. Following her repose, the body of the Theotokos was taken in procession and laid in a tomb near the Garden of Gethsemane. When the Apostle Thomas arrived three days after her repose and desired to see her body, the tomb was found to be empty. The bodily assumption of the Theotokos was confirmed by the message of an angel and by her appearance to the Apostles.
